

Road Map to Trailhead
Crab Creek Coulee Hike
 Spokane BLM District

From State Route 28, about 15 miles east of Odessa and 9.5 miles southwest of Harrington, turn south on paved Doggett Road. Drive south 1.6 miles, curving southeast and crossing the railroad tracks, to a "T". Turn left (east on Tanke Road) and drive 0.5 miles to the top of the hill, then turn right (south) onto gravel Rocky Ford Road.

Drive about 5 miles south on Rock Ford Road to the concrete bridge over Crab Creek. Park at the pullout just southeast of the bridge. The trailhead is the green steel pedestrian gate in the fence line.

NOTE: From Hwy 90 on the south, one can take Exit 221, then turn northwest onto the road leading into Ritzville (which soon becomes Division Street). On the northwest edge of town, about 1.5 miles from Hwy 90, just before the road bends due west, turn right (north) onto paved Marcellus Road. Follow Marcellus Road for about 9 miles north to a 90 degree turn to the west. At this corner, turn right (northeast) onto gravel Rocky Ford Road and follow it for about 4 miles to the concrete bridge over Crab Creek.
