

Road Map to Trailhead

Black Lake Hike

Washington Dept. of Fish & Wildlife

From the north on State Hwy 262, 4.9 miles east of Potholes State Park and 6.7 miles west of State Hwy 17, turn south on a gravel road at the east end of O'Sullivan Dam. This gravel road leads into the Columbia National Wildlife Refuge. Drive south about 2.9 miles to a junction, where the Upper Goose Lake Road is straight ahead.

From the south on State Hwy 26, drive north to the town of Othello, then follow McManamon Road north out of town as it descends into the Drumheller Channels. At 5.7 miles, turn north onto paved Morgan Lake Road. Follow this road north into the Refuge, past the end of the pavement, for about 4.6 miles to a road junction. Turn left (west) here on the Upper Goose Lake Road.

Drive southwest 1.7 miles to road's end at the Upper Goose Lake boat ramp. A WA State Discover Pass is required at this trailhead.
